The pressoution closed yesterday evening, and the defense called one witness, flagued Lewis, former revision clork of the Senata, before adjournment was taken along toward midnight. Lewis, on direct examination, admitted he took $150 from George H. Hendall, President of the New York Bank Note Company, for drawing up a bill introduced by Senate Stilwell, but dealed Stilwell gas ear of the means.

Field, of the New York Bank Note Company, was assued from the etand after a cross-examination lasting servant hours, which centred chiefly around the sotten he swere he made while its taming over another wire to the conversation between Stilwell and Exadell on March II, in which Esadell dates to have trapped the Senator into admissions of his alleged effort at extertion.

William T. Byrne made valuant efforts to show that the 100 words written on four cheefs of white lines paper had been "framed up" after the receivers had been hung up and the conversation terminated. Field's final testimeny was that he had never directly heard Stilled.

MARYELLOUS GOLF DRAWS OUT BIG GALLERY.

Coming back Travers and Beach ers won the second par 5 in 4 to 4 Beach being in ditch water on his see ond, where he dug out of mud with nibilek. Travers wes the third par 3 to 4. in remarkable style, after having such a ile against a bank on his drive that his chances seemed desperate. Nevertheless, he escaped to within two feet of the cup in hearthreaking fashion. Travers won the fourth, 4 to par & after having a putt for an almost in-dredible 2. From the tee Travers twice used a driving cleek. Beach came so close to laying Travers a stymic that the later's ball hit Beach's sphere. Holing a 3-foot putt gave Travere a 2 to Beach's 5 on the fifth. Travers also contured the sixth in a regulation 5 to 6, after getting the green (R yards) in three. Indeed he had a putt for a four. Beach was in the read on his second.

That made Travers 5 up, and the news of his pace being carried, the gallery concentrated upon him. The seventh was finely halved. Then Travers scooped the eighth in another birdle 2 to 4. Beach equalling par, despite his direction being off. The ninth, halved was 40 out, seven strokes worse. Trying to hold Travers down on such a pace was like attempting to pull back a locomotive with its throttle wide open. Travers beat Beach 7 and 5.

Travers best Beach 7 and 8.

The bye holes that Travers played for a record were full of excitement. On the sixteenth he actually rimmed for a birdle 2. Beach, who had helved the fourteenth, fifteenth and sixteenth, bungled the seventeenth with a 8, but

At the 18th Travers's ball rested on a broken bottle, which he could not move, so he was obliged to chee it out at a few feet distance. After citcing into tall green and pitching over the green he
